TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS

PREDICTS A SWEEPING VICTORY FOR BECKHAM

Leading Democratic Newspaper in Beckham's Home District, Concedes Beckham's Nomination

Contestation was thrown into the Stanley ranks in Kentucky Tuesday morning, when the biggest daily newspaper in Stanley's home district, the Owensboro Messenger, conceded Beckham's victory in the primary next Saturday week, August 1st. This was the first utterance of Editor Urey Woodson on the senatorial race, and since Editor Woodson has taken this position, it has said to a sweeping Beckham majority in Daviess county and the city of Owensboro, and Daviess county has the largest democratic vote of any county in the Second congressional district.

A special dispatch from Owensboro Tuesday morning said:

Owensboro, Ky., July 20.—J. C. W. Beckham spoke here today to a crowd of more than 4,000 people and was given a most enthusiastic reception. He has always been strong in Owensboro, but it is a remarkable fact that in this race the Mayor is nearly every member of the City Council, and practically all of the city officials, including twenty-one firemen, eighteen policemen, and the street cleaning brigade, as well as many of the county officials, are earnestly supporting him. Both of the newspapers seem friendly to his candidacy.

Urey Woodson, in an editorial in the Messenger tomorrow will say:

"The Messenger has not felt inclined to take a hand in the Senatorial contest that has been on in Kentucky for months, and which is now to close, so far as the nomination is concerned, in the next few days."

"It is now known of these candidates anything. It has served all of them repeatedly in the past. It will give to the nominee of the Democratic party, when the primary votes have been counted, the best support at its command, and will do its utmost to insure his election in November."

"The primary contest being now, however, virtually an end and the leading candidates having canvassed from fifty to one hundred counties, it is not difficult, in view of the Messenger's opportunities for observation, to predict the result. It takes no great political acumen to do this."

"Mr. Beckham will win the nomination hands down. That was evident three months ago. Nothing has meanwhile transpired to change the situation. Mr. Stanley has made a most vigorous canvass. He is an indefatigable worker and a wonderful talker. But he seems to have made little headway. Gov. McCreary has made none at all. Both of them have encountered a wave of public sentiment that it was impossible to brook."

"The people do not seem to have been impressed with pernicious oratory on the part of any of these candidates. The one central idea with them is that a great wrong was done Beckham five years ago when the democratic nomination for Senator, he was slaughtered in a Democratic Legislature, defeated in the ballot and corrupt use of money."

"The scandal of that senatorial election was much greater than the Lorimer scandal. It warranted investigation and criminal prosecution, but, strange to say, it was never investigated. The memory of it, however, has remained with the people and there is among them an irresistible determination to avenge that wrong and vindicate Beckham at the polls this year."

"The Messenger has not been in hearty accord with Beckham for some years. It does not fail, however, in some of the position he is now taking. It does not find it possible to enthuse over him, any more than it does over Mr. Stanley, but as a newspaper it records faithfully what is going on in Kentucky today."

"Opposition to Beckham is useless. He will get more votes, many more votes, in the primary than Stanley and McCreary combined. His race for the nomination is won. Further acrimonious speaking should be ended. It can only be destructive of party harmony. It is time to be looking forward to November."

Dixon, Ky., July 1.—Hon. J. C. W. Beckham spoke here to an audience that filled the court house in behalf of his candidacy for the senate. He was introduced by J. D. Raikes, who read the following telegram: "J. D. Raikes, Dixon, Ky., we send greeting to you and Democrats of Webster county and to your distinguished guest and Kentucky's greatest democrat, Hon. J. C. W. Beckham. Henderson county will give Beckham 1000 good sober Democratic votes. The shame of the McNutt-Lillard-Courier—Journal whiskers lobby must be won out. Signed: Dr. C. Moseley, H. E. Wilson, C. E. Sarge, R. L. Cinnamon, E. H. Higgins, T. A. Conway, E. G. Ward, A. W. Hilds, U. E. Sights, T. K. Sutton, A. W. Martin, J. B. Adams."

Straw Vote in Lancaster

A prominent democrat of Garrard county, took a straw vote among democratic voters on the streets in Lancaster.

Long Term—Beckham 47, Stanley 13, after Saturday afternoon which resulted: McCreary 9.

Short Term—Camden 39, Young 14, Smith 3.

Two Big Firms Consolidate

One of the largest business consolidations ever perfected in this section of the state was made known last week, when the Cumberland Grocery Company and the George P. Taylor Company, merged. The Cumberland Grocery Company is capitalized at $300,000, and has branches at Monticello, Burnside, Somerset, Junction City, Lebanon and Glasgow. The George P. Taylor company is the oldest produce house in the mountains of Kentucky, and its business runs the hundreds of thousands. Its main office is at Burnside, with branch houses at Albany, Burkesville and Somerset. W. J. Davidson is president of the Cumberland Grocery Company, and N. I. Taylor is treasurer and president of the George P. Taylor company. There will be no change in the management on account of the consolidation.

The Best Medicine in the World
"My little girl had dysentery very bad. I thought she would die. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy cured her, and I can truthfully say that I think it is the best medicine in the world," writes Mrs. William Orvis, Clara, Mich. For Sale by all dealers.

WHAT MOST OF THE COUNTRY PAPERS HAVE TO SAY OF SENATORIAL RACE IN CLOSING DAYS OF THE CAMPAIGN

Lexington Herald' Straw Vote

Barbourville, Ky., July 18.—Former Governor J. C. W. Beckham led in the straw vote for United States Senator taken by The Lexington Herald staff correspondent aboard the mountain goat train, at Barbourville, nearly 3 to 1 over the combined vote of his two opponents, Governor McCreary and Congressman Owes Stanley. Beckham's friends are enthusiastic and say that among the country folk he will poll the full Democratic vote.

The straw vote at Barbourville resulted:

Beckham 52, McCreary 3, Stanley 10, Augustus E. Wilson 21, R. P. Ernst 10.

Powers 19, Bosworth 33.

George W. Jolly, candidate for United States Senator on the Progressive ticket, got four votes, and John H. Wilson, Progressive candidate for Congress, four votes.

At Pineville the vote stood:

Beckham 8, McCreary 9,

Augustus E. Wilson, 2, R. P. Ernst 0.

Powers 2, Bosworth 2.

At Berea, Madison county, the Herald's reporter also took a straw vote at the depot. Berea is in Governor McCreary's old congressional district but he only broke even with Stanley in dividing the opposition to the nomination and election of former Governor J. C. W. Beckham.

Former Governor Augustus E. Wilson, former Colonel R. P. Ernst and the Republicans seem to have the best of the Covington politicians. Only one Progressive showed up and he was so enthusiastic in advocating Roosevelt for President, that he forgot who was running for United States Senator on the Progressive ticket.

Senator Johnson N. Camden there, as at Lexington, received a decided preference for the Democratic nomination for the short term and was practically the unanimous choice of those who expressed their preference in that contest. The straw vote at Berea showed the following results:

For United States Senator, long term, Beckham, 6; McCreary, 3; Stanley, 3; Republican Augustus E. Wilson, 7; Ernst, 3.

For United States Senator, short term, Johnson N. Camden, 11.

Mr. Beckham

(From Shelbyville Sentinel)

No man in the whirl of political life of the Democratic party in Kentucky stands so prominently forth in the public eye as ex-Governor J. C. W. Beckham. Not by accident, but, on the contrary, in hot many tight backs by the unflinching honor and courage and a big brain has he won his spurs. He is the best of his friends, and his enemies the sad experience have also learned to appreciate him more. He has never disgraced his country, he has kept the name of his party—never. He has always fought in the open and always fair. All he has ever asked for is a hearing and, given it, acquitted himself with credit and distinction.

He is a young man in the prime of life, full of health and vigor, and able to do great service for the party in the position that he aspires to—the Senate of the United States, Kentucky will be instantly recognized when he takes his seat—for alike with every sensible Democrat, we feel that yes, Kentucky will shortly again come into its own, and the Nation, rousing itself and looking the young champion of Kentucky over, will say, "Well, well; he is a pretty clever fellow, and one of the most promising young men in the most august body of the world."

His friends everywhere, from end to end of the State, gladly hail him as their chief and leader. Just to give a bit of advance notice and to break the news gently; Beckham has already gotten the nomination and gone off with it. It is a runaway race, and Shelly county will roll up a big majority for him, too. Of course this news may sound sudden, but we can assure you it is good enough and true enough to place a safe bet on Mr. Beckham—that is, if you need the money.

The Stanley men may fight Beckham to their hearts' content. All that Beckham's friends ask is that the Second district's man friends will support the nomine.

(From Fulton News)

Majority Leader Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama was nominated for United States Senator without canvassing his state for votes. His sterling ability had made his name a household word, because he stayed on his job in Washington his democratic record was a credit to his party and his Senator by a big majority.

However, Col. Harvey has nothing to do with the editorial management of Harper's Weekly now, and has not had for some time. Harper's Weekly today is edited by Norman Hapgood, and there is no periodical or journal in this country that is giving the Wilson administration more vigorous, loyal or intelligent support. Further than this: Mr. Hapgood was for many years one of the editors of Collier's Weekly, and resigned when Collier's abandoned Democratic principles, and began its attacks on the Wilson administration. Mr. Hapgood, according to what was printed in the papers, would not write in favor of Wilson, but he did, and was soon after him, and also like him, is a statesman that ranks with the best in the nation. He was Governor himself, grandson of a Governor, and the nephew of a Governor, coming from a family that was considered among the best in the land. His moral character is above suspicion and his ability as a leader and statesman is well known.

The editor of the Jeffersonian believes Mr. Beckham will carry Jefferson county outside the city—as nearly every democrat we have asked about the matter has said he was for Beckham. When Mr. Beckham was Governor he was instrumental in having the saloons closed on Sunday in Louisville, and for that reason, as well as for his fitness for the office, there are a large number of Republicans and Independents who are for him or in his party.

For the Stanley men, however, it is a fact that Col. George Harvey and Henry Watterson were the leaders in their desperate effort to discredit Wilson's campaign and to defeat him for the nomination. The same Henry Watterson is perhaps the most implacable political enemy Mr. Beckham has in Kentucky.

Christianity in Fly Time

A FARMER came to the pastor of his congregation and asked that his name be taken off the church books.

"What is the trouble, Brother Jones?" asked the pastor.

"I supposed you were a faithful follower of the Lamb."

"Well, I sort of believed that myself, but there is just no use talkin', a man can't serve the Lord when he has to milk four cows in fly time. After the first heavy frost I'll try this church business again, but just now I either have to sell the cows, give up the church or be a durned hypocrite."

No need for Brother Jones quitting his church or selling his cows. Penny has got the flies beat a mile. Just go right into his drug store and tell him to get you a 25c can of Krebs Dip, take it home, use it as directed on the label, and your cow is peace and happiness.

4 Fine Farm For Sale!

For private reasons I will have to give up farming; and will sell my home place of 230 acres. This farm is in 1-2 mile of Crab Orchard, adjoining the Fair Grounds and lands of J. W. Guest. It has a brick dwelling of six rooms, hall, porch, and cellar; a frame summer dining room and kitchen attached; a good tenant house, two stock barns, a $1,200 tobacco barn of 8-acres capacity, and all other necessary outbuildings.

This farm is in a high state of cultivation; 130 acres of river bottom land, that is fine corn, meadow, or grazing land; 100 acres of up-land, adapted to blue grass, and is fine for tobacco, corn, wheat and other grain.

Dix river bounds it on the east, with two creeks running through the farm, five never-failing springs, and a splendid bored well, of pure limestone water, at the door, which gives an abundance of stock water during the driest seasons, which makes it an ideal stock farm.

This farm can be nicely divided into two farms--about 130 acres with tenant house; and 100 acres with improvements.

Will sell as a whole or in two tracts, to suit purchasers. Liberal terms will be given. Seeding privileges given, and full possession January 1st, 1915.

Take of $30 hay this winter has impelled Commissioner of Agriculture J. W. Newman to send out a bulletin to farmers suggesting that they plant millet, cowpeas, sorghum or corn broads in the usual fields and so raise a forage crop for feeding their stock this winter. Corn and sorghum planted at this time, he said, will be developed by fall sufficiently to make good feed, and cowpeas and millet can be grown at this late season. Hay is only half a crop in Kentucky. Much of the clover was frozen out last winter, and the drought got the timothy to a great extent. Many farmers are setting out a second planting of potatoes, which crop was entirely lost in many sections.

Fox Says Feeders May Go to a Cent

Monte Fox, of Danville, who buys every year thousands of fancy heifers for New York parties, says there is a great scarcity of beef cattle, and that he would not be at all surprised to see "feeders" selling at eight cents a pound now that the rains have come and give good promise of grass and corn. For the uninitiated it may be stated that "feeders" are young cattle which are put on feed and fattened for the following year's market. Fancy heifers, averaging 1,600 pounds or better, are now bringing somewhere in the neighborhood of $8.40 per hundred pounds, which is a very substantial advance over the price of a few years ago. Cattle on the basis of $8.40 make strion stakes in New York cost about forty cents a pound at the butcher shop, and about $1.00 on the stock market.

Mr. Fox says that there are now scarcely any fancy heifers exported from this country, but that a great deal of Argentine meat comes to the United States by way of London. This beef, he says, is as good in quality as the domestic article and for that reason does not compete with the home beef at the best home and hotel tables, but it is widely sold and undoubtedly keeps the price for the bluegrass steer down lower than it would otherwise be.

SECRET OF SUCCESS

Genuine Merit Required to Win The People's Confidence

Have you ever stopped to reason why that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at one drop out of sight and are soon forgotten?

The reason is plain--the article fails to fulfill the promise of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine.

A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system, the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says, "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy that I know of has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder diseases, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcels Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents, also mention the Stanford Interior Journal.

Notice to Shippers of Sheep

The following regulation has been issued by the Live Stock Sanitary Board of Kentucky, Effective Monday, June 23rd, 1914: All shipments of sheep originating at points in Kentucky shall be made in punts or market stock yards shall be dipped in preparation already approved by this Board and lagged into disinfested cars before being permitted to go to any point in Kentucky other than for immediate slaughter. J. W. Newman, Chairman, Fred Kastle, F. S. Good, G. N. McGraw, Fred R. Blackburn, H. M. Fronman, T. L. Lettelle, Members of Board, 59-3.

Surprising Cure for Stomach Trouble

When you have trouble with your stomach or chronic constipation, don't imagine that your case is beyond help just because your doctor fails to give you relief. Mrs. G. Stingle, Plainfield, N. J., writes, "For over a month past I have been troubled with my stomach. Everything I ate upset it terribly. One of Chamberlain's advertising booklets came to me. After reading a few of the letters from people who had been cured by Chamberlain's Tablets, I decided to try them. I have taken nearly three-fourths of a package of them and can now eat almost everything that I want." For sale by all dealers.

CAMDEN TO GIVE A BARBECUE

Will Entertain Farmers Again At Versailles on July 29.

One of the big features of the state convention of the Kentucky division of the Farmer's Education and Co-operators Union of America, which meets at Versailles, July 28, 29 and 30 will be a big picnic and barbecue which will be held at Spring Hill, Senator Camden's home place, Wednesday, July 29.

Senator Camden telegraphed to Frank McKee, of Versailles Saturday inviting the farmers to be guests at his place on that date, and promised to be present to make them welcome if it were possible for him to get away from Washington. Mr. McKee said that Senator Camden had advised him that he thought he could make arrangements to be present and join with the farmers in their meetings and celebrations. He said he would do so if it was possible to do so without neglecting his duties at Washington.

Other plans for the entertainment of the visiting farmers are being arranged by the Woodford County members of the Union, and Mr. Camden's invitation to come to his farm for a big picnic and barbecue was gladly accepted, with the splendid hospitality extended by Senator Camden last summer not yet forgotten.

Though the barbecue and ceremonies this year will not be as pretentious as last year, several notable speakers are expected and almost as many visitors as were present last year probably will attend.

President Barrett, of Union City, Ga., chief executive of the national organization, has promised to be present and address the meeting, and Dr. Fred Mitchell, of Lexington, connected with the United States department of Agriculture will deliver several talks during the convention and after.

Many other prominent officials and members of the national organization have accepted invitations to be present and address the convention.

At the barbecue last year at Spring Hill, at which Senator Camden was host, it was variously estimated that between 15,000 and 25,000 visitors gathered to hear the speakers, experts in agricultural matters, from all over the country and partake of the hospitality of Woodford County's leading citizens.

The farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America, the Kentucky division of which will meet at Versailles, is the largest and most powerful agricultural organization in America. It has 3,000,000 members, among whom are agricultural experts in nearly every state in the Union.

BAPTISTS WIN TIGHT GAME

Hottest Contest of S. S. League Played Monday Afternoon

How They Stand

	Won	Lost	Per Cent
Baptists	3	2	.600
Methodists	2	2	.500
Christians	2	3	.400

The hottest ball game of the Sunday School League season was played Monday afternoon when the Baptists defeated the Christians by a score of 8 to 7. The roosters were out in full force and kept things lively. The pitching and batting of Wallace Singleton for the Baptists neared the game. He held the hard hitting Christians down in fine style when they were mean runs, and won his own game with a home run to center field when the score was tied up, in the eighth. Lephew had the lead of the Baptist batters on his start, however, for he struck out the next three men. The Christians came near tying it up at one winning it in the ninth inning when they pushed a man around to as third, but Manager Walker struck out for the final out.
